SUDDEN DEATH OF DR. J. J. GILLESPIE

Dr. James Johnson Gillespie, pioneer medical practitioner of the Pincher Creek district, died in St. Vincent's hospital on Thursday evening last, following an unsuccessful operation for appendicitis.

The death of Dr. Gillespie cast a gloom over the entire district, for he was very widely known and popular. He was born at Morrisburg, Ontario, in 1878 and graduated in medicine from Queen's University about the year 1900. In his early years of practice, he resided at Lethbridge, where he associated himself with Dr. Mewburn. Later he practiced at Bankhead, coming to Pincher Creek in 1903. In 1914 he went overseas and served with the Canadian medical corps till 1916. In 1908, he was united in marriage, his wife and three children now surviving. He was a member of the Masonic and I.O.O.F. orders, and the funeral services on Sunday were in charge of the latter organization.

Besides the immediate family, Mrs. Kew, a sister, resides at Stavely; a brother, Dr. John Gillespie, is in New York; another brother, Matthew, at Fort Frances, Ontario, and the third, Arthur, of North Dakota; and two sisters, outside Alberta.

Funeral on Sunday afternoon was very largely attended, quite a number from Town being present.

DEATH OF DR. HONEY

Relatives in Toronto have been advised of the death yesterday at Edmonton, of Dr. William B. Honey, who saw service overseas in the war. He was born in the British West Indies in 1881. He graduated in medicine from University of Toronto in 1908. He commenced practice in Alberta, continuing until 1918, when he joined the C.A.M.C. and went overseas, serving in turn at Salonica, Egypt, Mesopotamia and India. He was a Presbyterian. Surviving are two brothers and three sisters, of whom Mrs. Robert Paton and Thomas Honey reside in Toronto—Toronto Mall and Empire, (Sat., Nov. 29.)

Dr. Honey is well known in the Crows' Nest Pass, having on several occasions either assisted or relieved doctors in this district.

FINAL TRIBUTE PAID PIONEER

Funeral services for one of Calgary's pioneer residents, Mrs. Catherine Stirtt, who died Saturday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. H. Baker, 807 Twentieth avenue west, were held Tuesday afternoon. Services were conducted by Rev. Dr. George A. Dickson at the residence, and burial followed in the presence of many old-timers and prominent citizens in the family plot in the Union cemetery.

The late Mrs. Stirtt was born in Stayner, Ontario, and was 69 years of age. She came to Calgary in 1885, and in 1889 married the late A. H. Stirtt. She had a successful career in business here, and was prominent in the Southern Alberta Pioneers' and Old-Timers' Association—Calgary Alberian.

New Map Of Canada

Gives Comprehensive Idea Of Location Of Outstanding Resources

A new map of Canada in colors on a scale of one hundred miles to the inch, that indicates the country's resources, main railways, forests and agricultural areas, has been issued by the National Development Bureau, Department of the Interior at Ottawa.

The map affords a comprehensive idea of the location of Canada's mines; water power, developed and undeveloped, fisheries, various types of farming, and other outstanding resources. It is of such convenient size as to be suitable for ready reference, and should prove of value to educationalists, business men, and, in fact, to all those who are connected with, or interested in the development of Canada's resources.

Copies of the map may be obtained free of charge by adults from the aforementioned bureau.

Another Scientific Feat

Hair Transplanted To Watch Crystal Keeps On Growing

British scientists have succeeded in growing hair on a watch crystal. This has been accomplished at the Leeds headquarters of the Wool Industries Research Association. A woman scientist takes tiny grafts of a guinea-pig's skin, transplants them to the surface of an inverted watch crystal and feeds them with blood plasma and a special extract to nourish the roots. The hair keeps on growing, and in most cases has doubled its length. The experiment is one of a long series that the association has been conducting to find out why hair and wool grow, and how it can be made to grow faster and thicker.

Will Award Scholarship

Every Province In Canada Represented In Boys' and Girls' Grains Judging Competition

Scholarships, valued from $200 up to $700, were decided upon, $200 going to the five students standing highest in the junior grain judging competition to be held in connection with the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference at Regina, in 1932. At a meeting of the boys' and girls' judging competition committee held under the chairmanship of C. M. Hamilton, at Toronto.

Originally it was intended to offer a trophy valued at $2,500 to the team entered in the inter-college section of these competitions securing highest standing. While it is still proposed to offer a trophy in this section, it is intended to offer awards to students securing highest scholarship, for graduate work in the value of $300, $200, $100, $600, and $700.

Every province of Canada is now represented on the boys' and girls' grain judging competition committee. At the meeting in Toronto, the personnel of the committee was enlarged to include the deputy minister of each province in addition to the official who, in each province, has charge of boys' and girls' club work and extension department.

Hedging As a Business Practice

Short Selling Of Grain Merely An Art Or Business Judgment

The October issue of the National Council of New York gives a clear-cut explanation of hedging operations. The article reads, in part:

"Recently excitement has been created by reports that the Russian authorities had been selling short on the Chicago market, and sales aggregating something over 7,000,000 bushels are said to have been traced. 'Everybody seems to have forgotten that only a few weeks ago charges were made that the Canadians were selling short on the Chicago market. The truth about it all is that Chicago is the greatest hedging market for wheat in the world. Traders dealing in all countries come to hedge their regular business transactions because it leads in volume of trading.'

"It has been said, as conclusive evidence of irregularity in the Russian transactions, that it would be wholly impracticable to deliver Russian wheat in Chicago. Hedging operations on the Chicago market seldom contemplate the shipment of wheat to Chicago, but are usually covered by local purchases. A miller who has bought wheat for conversion into flour may sell an equal amount of wheat for future delivery in Chicago, but without expecting to ship wheat to Chicago. He may expect to sell wheat to a customer in the market for whom he has bought wheat later than himself."

"Elevator companies, buying grain at scores of railroad stations, hedge their purchases by corresponding sales on the Chicago market, but may not send any of their purchases to Chicago. They may sell the grain to mills in different parts of this country, or may send it direct to Gulf ports by the lake to Buffalo and the railhead distributing as they are able to do so advantageously by cancelling their hedges as they do so. Cancellation is effected by buying offsetting contracts, sales and purchases washing each other out in the settlements."

"A buyer of wheat in Canada or Argentina, who does not yet know whether he will sell in Liverpool, Amsterdam or Genoa, may make a hedge sale on the Chicago market for protection against fluctuations until he can negotiate for the disposition of his Argentine purchases. When he has done this he will close out his hedge position in Ontario by buying against his previous sale. He aims to eliminate the risk of fluctuations but save a dealer's profit."

"It should be understood that every contract is a bona fide legal contract for delivery at a fixed date, and must be met at maturity, but obviously a contract to sell requires that unless the seller is already in a position to make the delivery he will have to acquire the commodity by the date named. Hence every such sale as the Russian government is said to have made is not some visible aura of the 'Red Menace' but a real sale, and it was rather that unearthy beauty we have often surprised on faces we have seen, that strange, spiritual luminescence, that comes of contemplation of eternal glory." His thoughts were filled with "the God of Glory," and Tennessee has truly expressed the sentiments of this divine vision:

Looking upward, full of grace,
He prayed and from a happy face
God's glory smote him on the face.

STEPHEN—AN EARLY INTERPRETER OF CHRISTIANITY

Golden Text: "They chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit." — Acts 6:5.

Lesson: Acts 6:1 to 7:60.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 53:7-12.

Explanations and Comments

Stephen the Deacon, Acts 6:1-8.—

Stephen was a man of special gifts, full of faith and of the Holy Spirit, the most prominent one of the seven deacons appointed by the apostles of the early church. In addition to his task of caring for the poor, he undertook evangelistic work, and preached with great power and success, and won many converts. He was well liked by the people. The number of disciples in Jerusalem increased remarkably, and even included members of prominent families. Stephen and the Evangelists, Acts 6:9-15.—Stephen became a special object of hatred to the Hellenistic (Greek-speaking) Jews, and they sought to cause his death. Among them were the Libertines, probably Jews or their descendants who had been brought to Italy by Pompey as slaves, but who had gained their freedom and were allotted a section in Rome for their residence; men of Cyrene and Alexandria in northern Africa; and others from the provinces of Asia Minor. These men disputed with Stephen, but not being able to cope with the wisdom and the Spirit of God, they spewed him into the dust. An old man, to declare that Stephen had lied, heard Moses and against God.

After stirring up the people and the Pharisees, the scribes and the scribes, his enemies seized Stephen and brought him before the Sanhedrin or Council. The false witnesses declared that Stephen had spoken "against this holy place and the law," and declared that Jesus had lied when he said that God had made him speak blasphemous words.

Stephen rebuked the temple (in probability referring to the words of Jesus recorded in John 2:19).

And all that sat in the council, fastening their eyes on him, saw his face, as it had been the face of an angel. What was it they saw? "Certainly not some visible aura of the God of Glory," Jesus had said. Stephen spoke "against this holy place and the law," and declared that Jesus had lied when he said that God had made him speak blasphemous words.

Each of the hem in the consignment has a record of 300 eggs per year or over. Included in the shipment are 100 cases of the famous "Stairway" or Hen No. 6, who holds the record in 1927 as the world's champion egg layer, with 351 eggs in 354 days. This White Leghorn was one of the chief attractions at the World's Poultry Congress held in Ottawa in August, 1927. White Leghorns, Rhode Island Reds and Barred Rockers are the principal breeds in the consignment bought by the Emperor of Japan. Several large orders for Japanese poultry raisers have been filled by British Columbia breeders in recent years.

The first steamer to carry apples direct from Australia Royal, Nova Scotia to London, England, the "Neptune," which sailed on April 2, 1881. Guardians Of The Pacific

Japanese Statesman Says British Commonwealth, United States, and Japan Must Co-Operate

As the "chief guardians" of the Pacific, the British Commonwealth, the United States and Japan must co-operate, decided Prince Tokugawa, eminent Japanese statesman, living before the Canadian Club of Toronto. "Certainly I do not ignore any other Pacific country," he proceeded, "but if can not be denied that the three nations I have mentioned are in reality the chief guardians of that region. It is pleasant to think that those who are the nations whose co-operation at the recent conference in London, England, brought about the result which it did."

"I have never been so strongly impressed with the fact," he said, "that all the nations of the civilized world are dependent on one another, and that no country in the world can do anything without affecting the interest of the other countries."

Proper Equipment For Planes
At a meeting of the Air Pilots, Engineers and Navigators' Association at Vancouver, a suggestion was made that steps should be taken by the association to ensure that planes operating on the fringes of civilization should be compelled to carry proper equipment. Employment of a short wave receiving and transmitting radio set was suggested and a committee was appointed to take any action deemed suitable and submit a report to the association.

"I've been a fool," he announced gravely to himself. "Perhaps this sudden heat has warped my judgment. But when I remember how those two youngsters made Bakerville buzz by their hasty marriage—and how Mary and I were worn to a frazzle getting up for them, I can't bear it that it should be so."

Gay is a fine, sweet, simple woman; if she does lack the wiles of her more sophisticated neighbor; and Nick's true blue, or I don't know the meaning of the phrase. I've made a mountain out of a mole hill, just because the boy's mind wandered when he saw that woman across the street. I'm an old fool! It's none of my business, anyway." And with that comforting conclusion he went home to his Mary.

But later, when he and Mary strolled through their garden, discussing the blighted pastures, his mind went back to Nick. He wondered if the boy were strong in another garden besides the blushing woman.

"Mary," he said, "have you met those people we've, before? Some Smith's old house?"

"No. They haven't been to church, and I supposed they were hardly settled enough for callers, after all they're doing to the house. I'm going to transplant some of those hollyhocks, though they're too crowded. Would you put them on the east side of the garage, or near the wall?"

"I wish you'd call," answered her husband with irrelevance.

"Call? Oh, you mean on Mrs. Halliday? Have you met her?"

"Yes. Nick introduced me as we passed the house."

"And like her looks? But she's young, Johnny. Perhaps she wouldn't want an old woman calling on her."

John Maxwell laughed.

"Mary," he said, "you don't look over forty, or—or—"

"Gifty," supplied Mary, smiling, "or sixty, or possibly seventy!" My dear, what a cinch it would be (to quote Janey), if the rest of the world could see me with your eyes! But, as you know perfectly well, I am sixty-nine years old; and to some women sixty-nine spells old age. But I'll say if you like, John. What makes you ask it?"

John Maxwell bent down to examine a green shoot carefully; then straightened up and faced her.

"If you don't mind, I'll not answer that question now. I want an unbiased opinion of the woman, and I know no one else who can size up folks as you can. After you've turned in your report, I'll confess everything."

"Confess?" laughed Mary Maxwell, and her husband said: "Don't worry, I may be a gay old dog my dear; but it's not my own. I'll confess when you bring me your verdict—especially the fruit of my agile imagination."

"I never thought your imagination was especially agile, Johnny," replied his placid companion of fifty years "but if I can save you the price of a detective I'll take the job! Come dear, we must go in. It's getting damp."

It was also getting damp in another garden, a garden on Elm Street, where four people stood near a bed of peonies. Could John Maxwell have seen the group he would have been relieved, for if Nick were standing near his captivating neighbor, his husband was there also, as well as Gay. It was she who broke a silence that for some reason had become constrained.

"Nick—I don't like leaving the house any longer. They might wake up."

"But I haven't shown you the plans for my rose garden!" protested Mrs. Halliday. "We painted in the colors, and it's quite charming. Do come in. It's not cold yet, and there's still time. If you must go, Mrs. Hastings, perhaps your husband will stay and see it?"

She turned to Nick, lifting eyes that were almost childlike in their pleading. Her husband was watching and a faint smile hovered on his lips, a smile that was, somehow, not pleasant to see.

"No," Nick answered, "we'd better be getting back; though if Sonny called us we'd have no trouble hearing him! He has the diaphragm of an elephant."

He cast a reluctant glance toward a far corner where the roses were some day to grow. It was a glance not lost on Mrs. Halliday, on her husband, and on Nick. There flashed through her mind the memory of another night in May, when Simon Bartlett had given his advice. The words: "Give him plenty of rope to run on," came back to her with strange vividness. She turned to Nick.

"You stay, dear," she said generously. "It won't take two to listen for the baby; and I know how much you'd like to see those plans."

Hallday, still a spectator, shrugged his shoulders as if he washed his hands of some invisible affair. His eyes were on Gay now. They lighted with a smile, half cynical, half pitying, as she extended a friendly hand in parting with her hostess. Then had anyone been watching, they would have seen a vast amusement sweeten his face. For Nick also stretched his hand.

"Good-night, Mrs. Halliday," he said quietly. "I'll see the plans some other evening, if I may. This wife of mine is a rank coward when it comes to going into a dark house alone! I can't desert her. Good-evening, Halliday."

He nodded to the lady's husband, and tucking Gay's arm within his own, turned toward the street.

Then her husband laughed; a low, irritating laugh, and said: " Didn't work this time, did it, old boy?" He stretched lazily, and moved toward the house. There he turned and added: "Seems rather fond of that stupid little wife of his. Better let him alone, my dear. Remember the Archery?"

She wrinkled up her furiously. "What beast!" Even in her anger she spoke softly. "Loathe you!"

She went past him, inside, and slammed the door.

CHAPTER VI.

As the sound of that slamming door carried across the garden, Nick glanced at Halliday's solitary figure going bravely forth on the front path and laughed.

"Sounds as if somebody were mad, doesn't it?—only it can't be Halliday because he's still outside; and she doesn't look like the sort who would slam a door. She's got such—well, innocent eyes."

"Almost too innocent," said Gay quietly. "She must be thirty."

"Thirty?" Nick looked his surprise as they seated themselves on the top step of the little porch. "I should have said she wasn't twenty-five. Her husband's a good bit older. Somehow I don't exactly cotton to him."

He has a cynical mouth, but he talked quite kindly to me when you and Mr. Halliday were here. I like him. He writes those so-called realistic things, you know, showing up everything unbearable in life, and nothing else. Out of pure curiosity I read one this afternoon, and it depressed me terribly. No wonder the man looks cynical if his mind runs in a groove like that!"

Nick smiled and said: "You always did view life through rose-colored spectacles, my dear." He looked at her closely, remembering John Maxwell's warning about the hollows in her cheeks. A street light across the way flared suddenly, illuminating her face, and with something of a shock Nick saw what a child she had meant.

"Gay," he said, seriously, "are you feeling pretty tired?"

"No more tired than I've been for a long time. Nick, I'll be all right now when the sleeping better."

"You ought to put him in another room. Gay, and let me see to him. I can't have you getting all used up. Look here! why don't you take the kids and make a visit to Uncle Sim?"

The change would do you good. Bakerville's such an oven from now on; and the old man would be rejoiced to have you. I could some for you some Sunday in the flitter and bring you home."

"And what would you do — here alone by yourself?"

"Oh, I'd worry along. I'd eat down town. That lunch room's pretty good. Perhaps our new neighbors would take pity on me occasionally, and ask me to dine!"

"Is that why you want me to go?"

"Nick, I'm not jealous; but I

"—Nostalgia, are you? If I remember rightly our wife, Uncle Simon advised you not to mind if I noticed a pretty face—and there's no doubt that Mrs. Halliday has got one!"

"Yes—she's pretty; but—well—Oh, Nick, of course I'm not jealous; but I can't help feeling that she sort of—annoys me. Perhaps it's just her wonderful clothes; but somehow she makes me feel crude and unrefined."

"The idea!"

Nick laughed, but the laugh didn't ring exactly true, and for some reason she couldn't quite define. Gay moved a space away.

Rugby Played By Romans

Game Was Not Introduced By Rugby School As Supposed

The birthplace of Rugby football is generally agreed to be the ancient Roman School, but the game really goes back farther than that. The Romans played it in the time of Caesar and it is thought that they copied it from the Greeks. They called it "harpastum," a Greek word meaning "to seize." It was so called because of the efforts of the players to seize and carry the ball from their opponents and in this respect the game resembled the modern game of Rugby. In harpastum the players were divided into two bands. Behind each side was a line drawn. Beyond each side another line was drawn. The ball was thrown into the line, the two sides then striving to carry it over their opponents' line. No doubt the Romans brought the game into Britain, for in the ancient town of Chester a ball game was played which closely resembled Rugby. It is believed that the game was played with the head of a Dame who had been captured and slain. In the Tudor period the game had made such headway that a statute was issued forbidding it as it became a serious hindrance to the practice of Archery.

Sick people had to be put to bed and given every chance to be cured of their disease and kept from spreading the disease to others. So hospitals and sanatoriums were built. It was found that one chief principle of the cure was long continued rest; but other means have been found from time to time, for instance the cold lapping of diseased lungs. So the treatment of the sick has become more and more skillful, more and more have been saved, and more and more spread of disease has been prevented by keeping sick people in hospitals and sanatoria.

Every tubercular patient is receiving better and better treatment. What has been done during these forty-eight years. First, the death rate has cut down to one-fifth of what it was, although the disease still remains a major scourge, but possibly the greatest advance that recent years have produced in our methods of combating it has been the application of preventive measures. As a rule tubercular actually begins years before it begins to show, and can infect people before they even disappear. Today we try to find infected people before they get sick and to keep them from getting sick. This is the big work of tuberculosis clinics and dispensaries and travelling clinics and anti-tuberculosis campaigns from one end of Canada to the other. They are hunting up, examining and keeping track of the contacts—people who come in contact with tubercular patients, and thus they are getting this disease under control wherever possible before it begins. This is the kind of thing that most of the Christmas Seal sale money is used for throughout the country.

According to an "American Dictionary" being compiled at the University of Chicago, to show the historical development of new words in this country, "anglophobia" has been in use since 1790; "anti-salon" made its appearance in 1838; and "assiet" as a bazaar term became current in 1891.

PREMIER BROWNEEMUST STAY

Out of the seething cauldron of rumor concerning the position of the Wheat Pool, one fact emerges and that is that Moses is urgently required to lead the flocks into the land of financial solvency. The names of Premier John Browne and John L. M. Farland are mentioned in this connection.

The possibility of the resignation of Premier Browne to take over this post is a question of utmost concern to all Albertans. This province, at this time, faces a crucial period in its history. Relief work, on a scale never heretofore attempted, is in progress to bring a measure of aid to unemployed workers and to hail and drown stricken farmers. It is a time when the coolest and ablest judgment is required of those who hold the reigns of office if Alberta is to emerge from the ordeal scathless. All ranks of people in Alberta have sold faith in the business acumen of our premier. No matter what differences of opinion one may hold regarding the alleged class legislation of the Browne government, one is forced to admit that the present administration is giving now, as it has done in the past, the best possible business administration of government affairs.

It is poor policy to swap horses whilst crossing a stream. There may be other cabinet material in the present government equally as capable to direct the affairs of the province, but the present time is not opportune to demonstrate the fact.

While Mr. Browne richly deserves your recognition of his ministerial abilities and is likely destined to fill a national post of great importance, Alberta needs his guiding hand at the helm until the shoals of financial depression are safely passed. Mr. Browne must stay—The Herald.

CARBON MONOXIDEDANGERS AGAIN

With the approach of winter, the danger of carbon monoxide gas poisoning from motor cars increases. Although warnings have been widely broadcast in recent years, the precautions that must be taken against the insidious action of the gas which gets in its deadly work when a motor is allowed to run in a closed garage cannot be too greatly emphasized. Because carbon monoxide is a colorless, odorless and tasteless gas, it gets in its killing work frequently without warning of any kind to the victim. Motor vehicles, therefore, should never be started and warmed up, or run in closed or public garages while adjustments are being made. The wise procedure is to open the garage doors always before starting the engine and to shut off the engine always before shutting the doors.

NOTED WESTERN FINANCIER DIES AT VICTORIA

V. CTORIA, B.C., Dec. 1.—Alfred C. Flumerfelt, Victoria capitalist, president of the Pacific Coast Terminal Company, and director of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company, died here Saturday evening from peritonitis. He was 74 years of age. The funeral will be held from the family residence here Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Flumerfelt was chiefly responsible for the organization and financing of the Granby Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company. He opened up the original mines at Phoenix, B.C., and the original smelter at Grand Forks, B.C.

He was a director of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Anglo Canadian Corporation, Miner Rubber Company, British Columbia Packers' Association, Cassidy's Limited, Montreal, the Western Mortgage Corporation, and other firms. He was also chairman of the board of the British-American Bond Corporation.

Mr. Flumerfelt was born in Markham, Ont., September 26, 1856. Before coming to British Columbia he was interested in the boat and shoe business in Coburg, Ont., and later at Winnipeg.

He served as quartermaster, with the rank of captain, Garrison Artillery.

Mr. Flumerfelt was also interested in the International Coal & Coke Company at Coleman, holding the office of president.

LYNE—BEARD

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in Natal when Miss Eva Beard of Natal, became the bride of Mr. Barney Lyne, of Corbin. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Caldwell at the bride's home. The bride entered the room to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Rheta Ingham, on the arm of her father who gave her away. She looked charming in a pretty gown of rose crepe de chene, ankle length and sleeveless, with three flounces on the hips trimmed with metallic threads. A corsage drooped from the back of the shoulders making a beautiful finish. She wore a wreath of orange blossoms in her hair and carried a beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums and snapdragons. Mr. James Lyne, brother of the groom, of Cowley, Alberta, was best man, while the young sister of the bride acted as bridesmaid, and looked charming in a gown of sand georgette flare with bertha collar pinned with a beautiful rose corsage, and wore a rhinestone bandana in her hair and carried a bouquet of snapdragons and sweet peas.

The room was centered with a rose from which hung a large wedding bell surrounded by streamers and smaller bells. The table was centered with a four-tier wedding cake. Fifty-two guests sat down and enjoyed a splendid feast, after which the evening was spent in songs and dancing.

The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts. They left the same night for Corbin where they will reside.—Fernie Free Press.

Despite protests and telegrams to the highway department of the Alberta Government, requesting action in clearing the red trail west of Coleman to Crows' Nest, British Columbia, no acknowledgment has been made. In view of the fact that British Columbia highway department has cleared its section of highway to the interprovincial boundary at Crows' Nest, it appears here to be poor policy that Alberta should clear its highway only as far as Coleman, leaving the 10 miles connecting line between the two provinces, blocked.

The Blairmore Miners' Community Christmas Treat will be held in the opera house, Blairmore, on Friday, December the 19th, commencing at 7 p.m. Children's tickets travel east from British Columbia and must be presented at door.

And Now—The Quebec Festival!

Habitant artists, born and bred on the soil of the Province of Quebec, and celebrated artists from the United States will call on each other in registering the spirit of old France and old New France at the Quebec Festival of French-Canadian Folk-Songs and Handicrafts, which the Canadian Pacific Railway announce, will be held November 16, 17, and 18 this year, with headquarters at the Chateau Frontenac.

Among the many delicacies which will be served at this annual banquet of French and French-Canadian culture will be two ballet operas, "A French Canadian Wedding" and "The Old Good Cheer," the first depicting a joyous country ceremony of a hundred years ago, and the second being a page from the history of Champlain's first settlement at Port Royal in Acadia in the early years of the seventeenth century.

The charming folk-songs of old Quebec, the ballads and songs of the "courtois du bois" of the backwoods, will be sung by the famous Bytown Troubadours; groups of Quebec and Montreal children will perform traditional country dances of old French peasant and of Indian origin, and other entertainments of a varied and delightful nature will be provided by noted artists of the Gallic race from Canada and other countries as well as during the three days of the Festival; while there will be interesting exhibits of handicraft work with spinning-wheel and loom by Quebec women, whose tapestries and clothes are famous and sought for all the world over.

Old-Time Yuletide Glories Return

One hundred years ago the Lord of the old Papineau Seignory at Montebello celebrated Christmas in the old fashioned way, surrounded by his family and dependents through a series of festivities lasting several days. The Yule-log crackled in the great fireplace; the merry voices of men and maidens sang through the great halls of the manor house; and the minstrels sang so no one of them was even then untroubled, were sung; bright garlands of evergreen decorated the apartments; and a company of a wily old Chivalrous King. Then, for a curtain, the song of the minstrels and the laughter of the guests was hushed and only the falling snow told the historic seat of the Taureau of the old world the Christmas season. This year, however, Lucerne-in-the-Country stretched its maze wide over the historic site and the ancient fables are to be revived, on a scale which will be all the greater. The Log Chateau as grand quarters, 88,000 acres of beautiful countryside will be thrown open to visitors to the unique hotel. Bob-sledding on one of the longest runs on the continent; skiing; ski-joring; ski-jumping; skating; snowshoeing and dog-sled drives will be enjoyed by the devotees of winter sports, while the most complete collection of winter sports, with up-to-date hotel-keeping; good food and bright entertainment will await the guests at close of day. Among the special features arranged for the Christmas season will be the singing of the Children of His Majesty's Savoy Chapel Choir (London, Eng.); old-time songs by Charles Goulet's troupe of French-Canadian artists and the interpretation of Tudor dances and experts in the regard of the School of Dancing. Thus, once again, will the old walls of the historic mansion hear strains which roused them to Christmas celebration a century ago, and before that. Lucerne-in-Quebec is ideally situated, so that a return bank of the Eastern United States may have run from the Canadian Capital and Montreal, and only an overnight run from the great cities of the Eastern United States.

Ambition

The Scott, goat of many an anecdote, occasionally turns the tables.

Lord Alness, in his autobiography, tells about an English political meeting. One of the candidates patriotically orated, "I have been born an Englishman, I have lived an Englishman, and I hope I shall die an Englishman."

Robert Christopher, for 50 years mechanic, fireman and locomotive engineer on the Canadian Pacific Railway, opened a throttle for the last time recently when he took his train on the run from Lethbridge to Windsor, Ont. He has been selected on various occasions to handle special trains for distinguished Canadian visitors, including the Prince of Wales, Governor-General of Canada, the Duke of Connaught, and many others. It is his boast that in all these years he has never had a single accident. A notable feature of his last run was the fact that his son, Thomas, although also a locomotive engineer, acted as his father's fireman.

New Map Of Canada

Gives Comprehensive Idea Of Location Of Outstanding Resources

A new map of Canada in colors on a scale of one hundred miles to the inch, that indicates the country's resources, main railways, forests and agricultural areas, has been issued by the National Development Bureau, Department of the Interior at Ottawa.

The map affords a comprehensive idea of the location of Canada's mines, water power developed and undeveloped, mineral resources, types of farming, and other outstanding resources. It is of such convenient size as to be suitable for ready reference, and should prove of value to educationalists, business men, and, in fact, to all those who are connected with, or interested in the development of Canada's resources.

Copies of the map may be obtained free of charge by adults from the aforementioned bureau.

Hair Transplanted To Watch Crystal Keeps On Growing

British scientists have succeeded in growing hair on a watch crystal. This has been accomplished at the Leeds headquarters of the Wool Industries Research Association. A woman scientist takes tiny grafts of a guinea-pig's skin, transplants them to the surface of an inverted watch crystal and feeds them with blood plasma and a special extract to nourish the roots. The hair keeps on growing and in many cases has reached and in some cases tripled its length. The experiment is one of a long series that the association has been conducting to find out why hair and wool grows, and how it can be made to grow faster and thicker.

Will Award Scholarship

Every Province In Canada Represented In Boys' and Girls' Grain Judging Competition

Scholarships valued from $300 up to $700, were decided upon as prizes to the five students standing highest in the junior grain judging competition to be held in connection with the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference at Regina in 1932 at a meeting of the boys' and girls' judging competition committee held under the chairmanship of C. M. Hamilton, at Toronto.

It was originally intended to offer a trophy valued at $500 to the team entered in the inter-college section of these competitions securing highest standing. While it is still proposed to offer a trophy in this section, it is intended to offer as awards to students securing highest placings scholarships for post-graduate work in the value of $300, $400, $500, $600, and $700.

Every province of Canada is now represented on this boys' and girls' grain judging competition committee. At the meeting in Toronto, the personnel of the committee was enlarged to include the deputy minister of each province in addition to the official who, in each province, has charge of boys' and girls' club work or extension department.

Hedging As a Business Practice

Short Selling Of Grain Merely An Act Of Business Judgment

The October Bulletin of the National City Bank of New York gives a clear-cut explanation of hedging operations. The article reads, in part:

"Recently excitement has been created by reports that the Russian authorities had been selling short on the Chicago market, and sales aggregating something over 7,000,000 bushels are said to have been traced."

"Everybody seems to have forgotten that there is nothing new about it. The Russians made that the Canadians were selling short on the Chicago market. The truth about it all is that Chicago is the greatest hedging market for wheat in the world. Traders, dealers, millers of all countries use it to hedge their regular business transactions because it leads in volume of trading."

"It has been said, as conclusive evidence of irregularity in the Russian transactions, that it would be wholly impracticable to deliver Russian wheat in Chicago. Hedging operations on the Chicago market seldom concern wheat which is to be delivered to Chicago, but are usually covered by local purchases. A miller who has bought wheat for conversion into flour may sell an equal amount of wheat for future delivery in Chicago, but without expecting to ship wheat to Chicago. He is protected in the manufacture of flour by the fact that if wheat declines in the meantime he probably will gain enough on the short sale to enable him to write down the cost of the flour and so meet the terms of a competitor who has bought wheat later than himself."

"Elevator companies, buying grain at scores of railroad stations, hedge their purchases by making forward sales on the Chicago market, but may not send any of their purchases to Chicago. They may sell the grain to mills in different parts of this country, or may send it direct to Gulf ports or by the lakes to Buffalo and the seaboard, distributing it as they are able to do advantageously, but cancelling their hedges as they do so. Cancellation is effected by buying offsetting contracts, sales and purchases washing each other out in the settlements."

"A buyer of wheat in Canada, Argentina, who does not yet know whether he will sell in Liverpool, Australia, or Greece, may make a hedge sale on the Chicago market for protection against fluctuations until he can negotiate for the disposition of his Argentine purchases. When he has done this he will close out the hedge operation in Chicago by buying against his previous sales. He aims to eliminate the risk of fluctuations but stands aside in case of a market decline."

It should be understood that every contract is a bona fide and legal contract for delivery at a fixed date, and must be met at maturity, but obviously a contract to require that unless the seller is already in a position to make the delivery he will have to acquire the commodity by the date. Hence every such sale as the Russian government is said to have made imposes the necessity of finally making a corresponding purchase in this country. Every short sale requires a purchase, and although a sale and purchase of equal amounts of a given commodity at different dates and places, precisely the same influence upon the market, there is no way of knowing in advance whether the sale or the purchase will count most heavily. Short selling like any contract engagement is an act of business judgment. Since sales and purchases are being made by many persons and form a continuous stream of business there is no reason for doubting that on the whole they practically offset and cancel each other. On the whole they are beneficial to producers as broadening the market."

Tree Near Niagara, Ontario, Is Twice As Old As Dominiion

From a tree as old as the Dominion of Canada, J. C. Frell, of Niagara township, Ontario, has picked apples of deep purple color, and of very good quality, known as the "black chief."

The tree is over 120 years old, and was a veteran when Confederation was signed 60 years ago. The seed was brought to Canada from the Old Country by sailing vessel. Measured on an average, the fruit had a circumference of 12½ inches.

Sand Paper

The term "sand paper" is a misnomer as abrasive papers are not made from sand. The natural abrasives used are corundum, emery, garnet, quartz or flint, and for some purposes pumice powder. Artificial abrasives include silicon, carbide, fused alumina, and some of the hard stones.

STEPHEN—AN EARLY INTERPRETER OF CHRISTIANITY

Golden Text: "They chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit." — Acts 6:5.

Lesson: Acts 6:1 to 7:60.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 53:7-12.

Explanations and Comments

Stephen the Deacon, Acts 6:1-8.—

Stephen was a man of special gifts, of great faith and of the Holy Spirit, the most prominent one of the seven deacons appointed to help the work of the early church. In addition to his task of caring for the poor, he undertook evangelistic work and preached with great power and success, and wrought wonders and miracles among the people. The number of disciples in Antioch increased rapidly, and even included numbers of priests.

Stephen and His Enemies, Acts 6:9-15.—Stephen became a special object of hatred to the Herodians (Greek-speaking) Jews, and they sought to compass his death. Among them were the Libertines, probably Jewish Christians, who had been taken to Italy by Pompey as slaves, but afterwards received their freedom and were allotted a section of land between Cyrene and Alexandria in northern Africa; and men of Cilicia and Asia, provinces of Asia Minor. These men despised Jesus and the gospel, and were unable to cope with the wisdom and the Spirit with which he spoke, they intended men to believe that they had more knowledge than Moses and against Moses and against God.

After stirring up the people and the Pharisees, the elders and the scribes, Stephen was brought before the Sanhedrin, or Council. The false witnesses declared that Stephen continually spoke against this place and the law, and that he would destroy the temple (probably repeated the words of Jesus recorded in John 2:19).

And so that in the council, the spectators, their eyes on him, saw his face as it had been the face of an angel.

Then Stephen said, "What crime have I committed?"

"Stephen did not sin, but he spoke halo not such as artists love to paint around the heads of saints.

He was often surprised on finding love, that strange, spiritual luminosity like a foregleam of a coming and glorious day, a glow that was filled with the God of Glory, and

Tennyson has truthfully expressed the source of that divine radiance:

"Looking upward, full of grace,
He prayed and from a happy place
His glory smote him on the face."

Looking upward, full of grace,
He prayed and from a happy place
His glory smote him on the face."

Guardians Of The Pacific

Japanese Statesmen Says British Commonwealth, United States, and Japan Must Co-Operate

As the "chief guardians" of the Pacific, the British Commonwealth, the United States and Japan must co-operate, declared Prince Tokugawa, eminent Japanese statesman, speaking before the Canadian Club at Toronto. "Certainly I do not ignore any other Pacific country," he proceeded, "but it can not be denied that the three nations I have mentioned are in reality the chief guardians of that region. Please permit me to think that we are the nation whose co-operation at the recent conference in London, England, brought about the result which it did."

"I have never been so strongly impressed by the fact," he said, "that all the nations of the civilized world are dependent on one another, and that no country in the world can do anything without affecting the interests of the other countries."

Proper Equipment For Planes

At a meeting of the Air Pilots, Engineers and Navigators' Association at Vancouver, a suggestion was made that steps should be taken by the association to ensure that planes operating on the fringes of civilization should be compelled to carry proper equipment. Employment of a short wave receiving and transmitting radio set was suggested and a committee was appointed to take any action deemed suitable and submit a report to the association.

CORBIN HAPPENINGS

The Club hall was the scene of a gay dance on Friday evening last, put on by the Corbin Community Club in aid of the rink. Messrs. Waddington and Lyne provided very excellent music throughout the evening. The prize winners for lucky entrance numbers were Mrs. Lionel V. M. Peet and Charlie Joyce.

A whilst drive and dance given by the Anglican Ladies' Guild, was held in the hall on Monday evening. The prize winners were as follows: ladies' first, Mrs. W. Goss; consolation, Mrs. J. Taylor; gents' first, Mr. J. Taylor; consolation, Mrs. D. Waddington.

Residents of Corbin are very busy now, making preparations for the big annual Christmas tree. This is the event of the year that the kiddies eagerly look forward to.

Everyone will be glad to hear that Master Bobbie Goss, who underwent an operation for acute appendicitis in the Fernie hospital, is making a successful recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard were Fernie visitors on Wednesday afternoon last.

The town of Corbin has been making history during the month of November. As a small mining camp, the present town came into existence some twenty-two years ago. By power produced in their own plant, they have operated the local mine successfully up to the present time. On Sunday, November 23, the East Kootenay Power made their final connection and current was turned into the newly constructed power yard, thus switching Corbin to outside power. About two weeks previous, telephone connections were completed, and now any person in town can enjoy a chat with friends in other towns by connecting up with long distance. Previous to this, we were connected by telephone to McGillivray, a C.P.R. station just fourteen miles distant.

The new ice-maker engaged for the Corbin rink put the first coating of water on the rink during the present week, and if local weather conditions hold it is hoped skating will be enjoyed soon.

PINS AND MEN

A pin must be pushed to make it go—so must most men.

A pin need polish to do its work smoothly—so does a man.

A pin to get out of a hole must have a pull—so must a man.

When a pin sticks too long in one place it gets rusty—so does a man.

A pin with a big head is not much good—neither is a man.

The head of a pin prevents it from going too far—so does the head of some men.

A straight pin under pressure often becomes crooked—so will a straight man.

Finally, there are white pins, black pins, crooked pins, long pins, good pins, smooth pins, rough pins, strong pins, weak pins, short pins—and the world is full of the same kind of men.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Mrs. Ed. Cowin is paying her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Easterbrook, and family, of Calgary, a visit.

Mrs. Ed. Grove, of Lundbreck, is a present Calgary visitor.

The Ladies' Bridge Club met at the home of Mrs. Tustian on Tuesday night.

Mr. James Leigh was a week-end visitor to Calgary.

The Men's Bridge Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cleland on Tuesday night.

Mr. Hewitt, of North Fork, was a Calgary visitor the early part of the week.

A few people in the district have sent bundles of good old clothing to the Sunshine Club at Calgary. It would be a great help to needy ones if every one who can would do this.

A very successful whist drive was held in the Masonic hall by the Cowley Ladies' Bridge Club on Wednesday last. The prizes were won in the following order: ladies' first, Charles Fordice, who played as a lady would; gents' first, Mr. O'Dea; consolations, Mrs. Charles Fordice and Harold Cleland. Twenty-nine dollars was realized, which will be added to the Christmas Tree fund.

The monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Archie Swart on Thursday night, when it was decided by vote to hold a second-year course in basketry, as early as possible in the new year. It is interesting to note here that there was an attendance of twelve ladies at the basketry course held the early part of this year, when thirty-five baskets, trays, etc., were made. This artful work, which proves most fascinating, has been carried on at intervals ever since.

Don't fail to see and hear screen's funniest comedians, George Sidney and Charlie Murray in "Around the Corner," Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Orpheum. It's a record breaker for hilarious situations.

BACKED BY THE WHOLE DOMINION

Closer Union, Not Secession

In times of depression, unemployment, hard times, national disaster, there is always a tendency on the part of suffering people to demand a revolutionary change in prevailing conditions, and this demand not infrequently takes the form of an agitation not merely for a change of government, but in the form of government itself. Far away fields usually look green, much greener than those close at hand, and far greener than is actually the case. Thus in monarchical the cry is raised in favor of a republic; in republic an agitation is started to supersede the democratic form of responsible government by a form of state socialism; in socialist republics the demand is for the establishment of an out-and-out communistic state.

Because Canada, in common with other countries, is suffering from the existing period of world-wide depression, unemployment, and inability to profitably market its surplus products, the cry of secession is raised. A Newfoundland Prime Minister, Mr. Baxter, of New Brunswick was the first to give voice to the idea, and this resulting big cry in the Maritime provinces. He did not openly advocate the secession of his Province from Confederation, but in view of the continual loss of the Maritimes of industrial and financial institutions through their removal to the central provinces of Quebec and Ontario, he asked the question whether New Brunswick would not be better off if it withdrew from Confederation.

In Western Canada the same question has been raised at meetings of farmers who, apparently, are not satisfied with the economic relationship existing between the east and west, and are not in accord with the fiscal policy which finds favor and strong support in the industrial centres of Ontario and Quebec. They, therefore, advocate the secession of the West from Confederation and the setting up of a new and separate British Dominion which would enjoy complete freedom of choice in the matter of fiscal policy. In a word, they hold that a fiscal policy which may be advantageous to the central industrial provinces is not in the interest of the agricultural western provinces, and that inasmuch as it is impossible to have two fiscal policies, one for the east and one for the west, the best thing to do is to separate politically and build up two British Dominions instead of one on the North American continent.

Such radical ideas do not flourish when times are good and people prosperous. It is only when people are discouraged and suffering loss, and conditions look dark and desperate, that such suggestions are advanced and receive more or less consideration.

But secession is not the path which the people of any part of Canada should travel. The Dominion has passed through many grave crises. It has weathered many a storm. It has grown stronger as a result. Its very unity is to become strength, not only for the whole but for each provincial unit. Linked together all the provinces are stronger financially, and in every way, than they could possibly be if divided and separate.

The genius of the Canadian people can surmount the existing difficulties. It may require patience and fortitude; it certainly will demand a large degree of patriotism and unselfishness. There will have to be less insistence on the part of any one section of the Dominion that their views alone must prevail. There will have to be a modified acceptance of the fact that the economic position of east and west is radically and fundamentally different; that while they are the complement one of the other, neither can prosper and survive if one alone is to dominate and seek to control, the other.

But Canada is yet a long way from an impasse where the only way out is secession of either the Maritimes on the one hand, or the Western provinces on the other hand. Central Canada cannot prosper without the business which the far eastern and the far western provinces give to it, and inasmuch as it is the western provinces that are suffering most acutely today, and are least benefited by the fiscal policies which Central Canada prefers, it would seem inevitable that Central Canada must modify its views.

Instead, however, of talking or even thinking secession at this time, the whole thought and energies of our people, east, west and central, should be devoted to the patriotic task of working out a compromise policy which, while giving neither east, west nor central all that they may desire, will nevertheless, work out a relationship more just to any part, but will give to one and the fair-handed deal and equal opportunity to develop their own resources and businesses along legitimate lines.

We have differences in outlook, different problems, different ideas as to policy for the solution of those problems, but we are inherently one people, with a common past and a common future. Our greatest gain and our permanent prosperity lies in strengthening, not weakening our union.

Oxygen Breathing Apparatus Permits Flying At Great Height

Oxygen breathing apparatus and full equipment for night flying are features of the Gloster Gnatsnapper II, a British all metal single-seater fighter designed for flying at great heights. The airplane is fitted with the "Jaguar" air-cooled radial motor. At 14,500 feet above the ground, the Gnatsnapper moves at 181 miles an hour at 20,000 feet the speed is 172 miles an hour. Time needed to climb with full load to a height of 20,000 feet is 19½ seconds, and the service ceiling is 27,000 feet.

Aviators In China Seek To Generate Precipitation By Attacking Storm Clouds

During a recent drought which developed a water famine in Hong Kong, China, skilled birdmen sought to generate precipitation by attacking storm clouds with a chemical called "dust". The dust is supposed to induce refrigerating action when it penetrates the clouds.

Take First Honors In Pig Club and Calf Club Competition At Winter Fair

Alberta is well satisfied with the results of the winter fair at the Royal Winter Yacht, according to H. A. Craig, deputy minister of agriculture. In the pig club team for the second time the sunny province has carried off first place, the team this year being made up of William Schmidt and Robert Wylye, both of Vegreville, Saskatchewan came second and Manitoba third. In the calf club competition the Alberta team of Vernon and Vernon McKnight of Camrose led all other provinces with Quebec second and Ontario third. First place in winter wheat went to S. Alopp of Wembley, in the Peace River district. The showing made in spring wheat was not quite so good, Alberta carrying off fourth, seventh and 14th place in a large and keenly contested class.

Automatic 'Phone For Blind

Disc Is Fitted With Numbers and Letters In Braille

No sooner have people become accustomed to the automatic telephone, where—on a ring with holes for letters and figures, they find the wanted number for themselves, than another invention comes in sight. This is the automatic telephone for the blind which the Paris Post Office has designed. Over the ordinary disc another ring is fitted, with numbers and letters in Braille. The blind person can easily slip it over the disc, and then is able to find letters and numbers with as much ease as those who are best fitted with sight can.

A remarkable thing has happened in the Church in Uganda. It has been decided that 12 African women shall have places at all future synods.

Progress Of Mankind

Human Element Has Always To Be Reckoned With World Affairs

Mr. MacDonald's statement is his belief that "it was absolutely impossible for mankind finally to go backward"; he would have received a reader audience from the last generation than from the present. The Victorians were optimistic, they held on, with popular education and suffrage and the electric telegraph, they had set the feet of democracy on the right path, on which it had only to go straight forward to reach an early millennium. Well, it has not worked out quite like that, and one feels that Mr. Gladstone and John Stuart Mill (to say nothing of the others), have been spared a good deal of pain by not living until 1930.

Apart from that, there is a ring of malady about Mr. MacDonald's words which both reason and experience reject. If mankind can partially or for a time go backward (as it has), why not wholly and irreversibly? And if the individual man is free from sin, why not the mass of society? Surely, if man can be freed from unerring aim from a divine power, but a driver at the wheel of his own car, which he must drive carefully if he is not to land in the ditch? It is not enough to preach that all's well with the world because God is in His heaven. Man on his earth has also to be reckoned with; and in him one has not quite that fine Englishesque confidence.—London Observer.

PRESENT LOW WHEAT PRICES ONLY TEMPORARY

Toronto, Ont.—"We must find some method of inducing the buyers of wheat in Great Britain to return to their customary preference for Canadian wheat," declared Dr. W. W. Swanson, economic adviser to Premier R. B. Bennett, at the recent Imperial Conference. "And," he continued, "we must take precautions to see that this preference is never lost again."

A great audience of leaders in Toronto's business and financial life listened intently to the story of the Imperial Conference and the economic problems Canada faces, as it came from Dr. Swanson, head of the department of economics of the University of Saskatchewan, and nationally known expert on Canadian trade and commerce problems.

After reviewing all the varied matters that entered into the complex problem of Canadian trade and imperial trade, Dr. Swanson declared the whole question so far as Canada was concerned, revolved around the market for the Dominion's wheat. The best market she could ever get was in the British Isles.

"At the present moment Canadian wheat, as always, holds the premier place in reputation and in quality in the British market," he said. "But temporary financial depression, and momentary surplus in the market together with another influence to which I cannot refer at this point, tend to lessen the advantage which we hold, and there is no question that the immediate solution of our wheat marketing problem depends on the willingness of the buyers of wheat in Great Britain to increase their proportion of purchases from Canada."

Dr. Swanson made open reference to the Russian dumping of grain in Britain. He declared, in speaking of the preference proposals submitted by Premier Bennett, that they would, frankly, result in an increase in the price of wheat in Britain.

"At the present time," he explained, "wheat is selling, not at a price set by fair and open competition, but at levels to which it has been lowered by the slave labor of the Soviet republic, driven by a heartless group of fanatics who do not scruple to starve a nation in order to make a case. I believe it is obvious as the price of British wheat to protect themselves from exploitation of the prices of their foodstuffs, it will be hard to find even a handful there who do not accept this view."

Dr. Swanson declared himself a free trader; but nevertheless, he was actively in favor of Premier Bennett's preference offer. In supporting it in London, he declared, "I conceived that I was doing more service to the ideal world freedom of trade than I could have accomplished in any other manner—I felt it was assisting at the mobilization of the greatest army in history for the penetration of unjust trade barriers raised by foreign powers."

The speaker also felt it important to correct any impression that the Dominions were not ready to consider alternative offers. The fact was, he said, the British Government did not make any definite alternative offers. These proposals such as the one on which the speaker was chassis schemes and the ideas of import boards, "were all submitted to the conference for examination and discussion. They were considered without prejudice." That none of them was found capable of immediate establishment was not owing to any unwillingness of the Dominion delegations to consider alternatives to tariff preference, but entirely owing to inability of the conference to accept any of these schemes as immediately workable."

The present low price of wheat is simply explained by the fact that a temporary financial depression exists in all occidental countries and that a momentary surplus of wheat is available for the market. "I lay stress on the temporary nature of these conditions," he said. "The depression affected every product produced in the world and every product of Canada from the mining industries of British Columbia to the lumber producers of the east." Such a general condition could only be temporary, said the speaker. It did not represent a condition of over-production.

Dr. Swanson said he was not a politician and knew nothing of politics. "But," he continued, "I know the needs of the farmers of the west—their distress and their high courage. For their sake and that of our beloved country I trust that this great question will be raised above the level of mere party strife."

Imperial Conference Results

Dr. Swanson Says Premier Bennett Was the Outstanding Man At Gathering

Toronto, Ont.—Far from being a failure, the Imperial Conference "had laid the foundation for future developments of great significance, not only to the Dominion of Canada, but to the Empire," declared Dr. E. W. Swanson, head of the department of economics of the University of Saskatchewan and economic adviser to Premier Richard E. Bennett, at the recent Imperial Conference. "And," he continued, "we must take precautions to see that this preference is never lost again."

That there are factors present in the wheat situation which would lift the markets to higher levels, was Dr. Swanson's opinion in respect of the present wheat crisis. He thought the effect of the 60,000,000 bushels of wheat which Russia had thrown on the British market was disproportionate to the volume, and Russia, he thought, would not long tolerate a state of affairs where internal distress was being caused by the exportation of wheat at prices below production costs.

In Dr. Swanson's opinion, Canada's Premier scored a magnificent personal triumph in persuading the British Government and the governments of the other dominions to convene at Ottawa next year. Mr. Bennett, he declared, was without question the outstanding man at the conference.

Prospector Dies In North

Overcome By Cold Drops Behind Companions On Trail

Winnipeg, Man.—Another victim of the northland trail has been claimed with the death of Ingvarur Curley, a 23-year-old Danish prospector.

Carrying a heavy pack, Curley dropped behind three companions, who were mushing their way from Central Manitoba Mines to Great Falls in north-eastern Manitoba.

Missed when the party stopped for a noon meal, a search was immediately instituted, and far back on the trail he was found, still alive but badly frozen. A huge fire was built and first aid treatment administered but he died within a short time in his rescuers arms.

Employees Share Profits

Experiment Being Tried Out By B.C. Lumber Mill

Victoria, B.C.—Establishing a precedent that may have far-reaching influence in the lumber trade of the Northwestern Pacific area, the Sidney Lumber Company, Limited, has successfully operated its extensive mills at Sidney for three months on a strictly profit-sharing basis with 125 employees sharing the proceeds of lumber sales in strict proportion to the wages they would earn in times of prosperity. The experiment is the first of its kind to be attempted on the Northwest Pacific Coast.

Load Poultry Cars

Regina, Sask.—Cars will be placed at 91 points throughout Saskatchewan for the collection and delivery, it was announced by D. Graham, secretary of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Egg and Poultry Food Producers Cooperative Egg and Poultry Food Producers are urged to deliver their product to the cars at central assembly points, he said, before December 15, as the last cars for the eastern markets will be moving out by that date.

Request New Type Cars

Canadian Livestock Unions Want Movable Partitions In Stock Cars

Ottawa, Ont.—Application of the Canadian Livestock unions seeking the equipping of railway cattle cars with two or more movable partitions will be heard by the Railway Commissioners December 5.

Heavy monetary loss is sustained by cattle owners owing to bruising, broken limbs and even suffocation, cattle suffer during shipment in the type of cars at present in use. By the use of movable partitions, the applicants hold, injury to shipments would be reduced to a minimum and mixed caravans of livestock would be possible.

Eskimo Marooned On Ice

Used Rifle Stock To Paddle Way To Safety

Point Barrow, Alaska—Marooned on a small island of ice while hunting a polar bear, Joe, an Eskimo, fashioned a rough raft from the ice and used a rifle stock as a paddle to make his way to safety in a 42-hour battle finally ending in the ice near here. He was exhausted, hungry, and with frost-bitten fingers. While he was on the ice, temperatures ranged from 20 to 30 degrees below zero.

SAFETY CLAUSE IS ADOPTED AT GENEVA MEETING

Geneva, Switzerland—A "safety clause" permitting a country threatened by attack to lay aside the restrictions of the general disarmament treaty, was adopted by the preparatory disarmament commission.

The clause was proposed by Hugh G. Gibson, United States representative, who explained that while the United States was willing to accept very rigid rules binding the nations to the treaty it was ready to consider the fears of other nations.

The only opponent to the clause came from Russia, which declared it unacceptable to the Soviets who are convinced the treaty ought to be absolutely binding on the states under all circumstances.

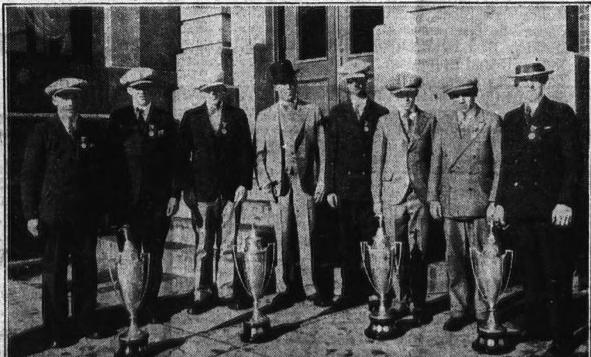

It was generally understood the clause was designed to quiet the fears of some of Russia's neighbors. It envisages a situation in which a country is threatened by attack and is compelled in self defense to break the disarmament commission.

The commission also decided that administration of the prospective treaty shall be placed in the hands of a permanent disarmament body of a permanent disarmament body with a seat at Geneva.

The composition of the permanent commission was left for the general conference to decide. A sub-committee presenting the proposal was unable to agree upon the body's composition.

Great Britain, United States, France, Italy, and Japan wished to have its membership restricted, while China, Turkey, and Finland held out for each party to the convention to have a seat in the permanent commission.

Diversified Farming

Says Western Farmer Should Not Put All Eggs In One Basket

Toronto, Ont.—In depending for their livelihood on wheat alone, Western Canada farmers are "putting all their eggs in one basket," declared G. J. Christie, president of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, addressing the Canadian Independent Telephone Association here, Tuesday Nov. 26, at its annual convention.

"Low price grain does not spell disaster to the farmers, for in a country where we can grow grain you can raise livestock," said Dr. Christie. Canada, he added, had a great chance to break into the bacon markets, which are now being virtually monopolized by the Danes.

May Pay Old Staff

Ottawa, Ont.—Cabinet consideration is being given the matter of adding five years' service to the superannuation of staff members of the Department of the Interior who face retirement following transfer to the prairie provinces of their natural resources. While the resources were under control of the Ottawa Government work in this connection fell to the Federal department.

Killed By Gun Trap

Beausjour, Man.—Rene Lussier, Leto Du Bon, a 21-year-old boy, put his foot in a gun trap while walking through frozen bush country here and died almost instantly. When his foot struck a wire connecting the trap, a gun report rang out and Lussier's companion carried the bleeding body to a nearby homestead.

Shall Investigate Under The Combines Investigation Act

Should an investigation under the Combines Investigation Act be ordered it would be the most extensive inquiry of the kind ever held in Canada. Owing to the wide ramifications of the milling and baking industries the inquiry would have to be national in scope. For this reason it would take considerable time.

In order to secure prompt results and to avoid embarrassing any industry the government prefers to enlist the co-operation of the interests concerned. Should this prove effective as it did in the case of the baking concerns no action would be taken. Should it fail, however, the information and machinery necessary to setting up an investigation, under way at short notice is in ready hand.

Many Complaints In Connection With The Price Of Bread

Many complaints in connection with the price of bread have been received by the government and through quiet but vigorous investigations a mass of authoritative information has been accumulated. The government is fully aware of the importance of keeping bread prices down to a minimum. The daily consumption of bread in Canada runs to about 3,000,000 loaves and a reduction of only one cent a loaf would mean an immense saving to the Canadian people.

May Try Atlantic Trip

Flight Of DO-X This Winter Still Being Considered

Lisbon, Portugal.—The giant flying boat Dornier DO-X, reached Lisbon, Nov. 26.

Dr. Claude Dornier and Mrs. Dornier disembarked from the DO-X at Corunna, Spain, and left for Madrid to go to Paris and Berlin.

The explanation given in Corunna was that the builder of the DO-X wanted to be present at the opening of the International Aircraft Show in Paris. The little sister of the DO-X known as the DO-S is one of the most interesting exhibits there.

Unfortunately it was learned from Corunna that the trans-Atlantic flight has not been abandoned officially no expression was obtainable. That the flight will not start before the end of the year seems certain.

Such Portuguese seafaring authorities as Admiral Carvalho Coutinho, who was first to cross the South Atlantic ocean by air, are of the opinion that the Azores-Bermuda route is wholly out of question in December and January, but that the DO-X can readily enough make the Canary Island, Cape Verde Islands and the Brazilian Coast route to New York.

Reduced Rates On Coal

Government Contemplating Further Extension Of Low Rate On Alberta Coal

Ottawa, Ont.—While no official announcement has been made it is learned of good authority that the government has under consideration a further extension of the reduced freight rates on Alberta coal into the central part of Canada.

"Low price grain does not spell disaster to the farmers, for in a country where we can grow grain you can raise livestock," said Dr. Christie. Canada, he added, had a great chance to break into the bacon markets, which are now being virtually monopolized by the Danes.

MOVE IS MADE FOR REDUCTION OF FLOUR PRICES

Ottawa, Ont.—Important developments in the Dominion Government's campaign for lower bread prices are anticipated at an early date unless the price of flour is reduced. Hon. Gideon D. Robertson, Minister of Labor, has been investigating the prices of bread and flour for the past four months with the assistance of the staff of the Bureau of Investigation branch and the investigators have now reached the stage where action of one sort or another is impending.

Following suggestions thrown out by the minister some months ago the price of bread was reduced by about 20 per cent. or a little more than two cents a loaf on the average over the whole of Canada. The price of flour, however, did not come down and the opinion was expressed at the department of labor that the next step must come from the milling companies.

Senator Robertson laid the results of his investigations before the cabinet meeting and afterwards announced he was calling a number of leading millers into consultation to see if something could be done to lower the price of flour. With wheat now at approximately 25 cents a bushel, flour is selling at approximately the same price as when wheat was $1 a bushel.

Should an investigation under the Combines Investigation Act be ordered it would be the most extensive inquiry of the kind ever held in Canada. Owing to the wide ramifications of the milling and baking industries the inquiry would have to be national in scope. For this reason it would take considerable time.

In order to secure prompt results and to avoid embarrassing any industry the government prefers to enlist the co-operation of the interests concerned. Should this prove effective as it did in the case of the baking concerns no action would be taken. Should it fail, however, the information and machinery necessary to setting up an investigation, under way at short notice is in ready hand.

STABILIZATION OF PRICES ASKED BY FARM PARTY

Saskatoon, Sask.—Organized agriculture of Ontario and the prairies have asked unanimously for government stabilization of prices on a production cost basis.

As the two-day interprovincial agrarian parley came to a close, a resolution was approved favoring "pegging" of prices at a level insuring fair exchange of agricultural products and of other goods and services.

The resolution, most far-reaching placed before the in camera conference, does not restrict its price-fixing proposal to agricultural goods. It favors a general probe to determine the relation between farmers' production cost and the cost of other goods and services, and establishment of a Dominion Government "bureau of standards" for manufactured products.

The resolution is more embracing than either of the price fixing attitudes expressed by United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, or United Farmers of Alberta in recent depositions to Ottawa officials. Both the Alberta and the Saskatchewan section favored a price of No. 1 Northern wheat, but no stand had been taken to seek control of the standards and prices of manufactured goods. United Farmers of Manitoba have not previously gone farther than to support the prairie premier's efforts to gain stabilized grain prices.

"Agricultural products are today standardized under grading regulations," it was mentioned in regard to the standards bureau, which was calculated to be of assistance in the production cost probe. "Similar grading or standardization of other products is a necessary step toward determining relative values for the purpose of exchange."

Allied in support of the resolution were delegates from United Farmers of Alberta, Manitoba and Alberta; of United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, and of the Canadian council of agriculture.

Faith In Saskatchewan

Optimistic Forecast Is Made By Hon. C. W. Buckle

Toronto, Ont.—Optimistic forecasts as to Saskatchewan's future reaction to the current depression were made by Hon. C. W. Buckle, Saskatchewan Minister of Agriculture, at the luncheon at the Royal Winter Fair. Mr. Buckle said although the province appeared to have been hit hardest by 1930 crop conditions, it will pull through successfully.

Mr. Buckle stated that 20,000 acres of farm land suffered a total crop failure, and that $1,500,000 were being spent on rural farm relief.
